Flee is a mostly animated documentary about the real-life story of Nawabi, which is a pseudonym used to protect his true identity. It explores the trauma of being forced to leave your home and the difficult circumstances faced by refugees. FLEE tells the story of Amin Nawabi as he grapples with a painful secret he has kept hidden for 20 years, one that threatens to derail the life he has built for himself and his soon to be husband. Recounted mostly through animation to director Jonas Poher Rasmussen, he tells for the first time the story of his extraordinary journey as a child refugee from Afghanistan. The director brings audiences a heart-wrenching look into the lives of refugees and the extreme lengths they go to for safety. The film was nominated for multiple Oscars and BAFTAs and also a Golden Globe.
