MEMORIES OF MURDER

살인의 추억

Memories of Murder is a 2003 South Korean crime thriller film co-written and directed by the academic award winning director Bong Joon-ho of 'Parasite' fame. Loosely based on the true story of Korea's first confirmed serial murders that took place between 1986 & 1991, the film has earned critical acclaim for its tone, cinematography, editing, score, Song's performance, and Bong's direction and screenplay. The film had received thirty awards and nominations, and is considered by many to be one of the best South Korean films ever made.
